

Professor Jacob,

I had the error within the MatLab program for ECET 337 that many students encountered in class, but found out how to get it to work. For the `tf()` function to work in MatLab on their personal computers, students need to install the "Control Systems Toolbox".

I followed this tutorial from MatLab on how to install toolboxes:

https://www.mathworks.com/help/matlab/matlab_env/get-add-ons.html

I simply searched for the toolbox in MatLab's Add On Explorer, signed in, installed it, and my program works fine.
